Designtex + West Elm

In 2014, Designtex learned West Elm was developing a collection for work applications. We felt West Elm furniture needed a collection of West Elm designed textiles and Designtex reached out. Thus began our partnership.

Since our first collection together in 2016, we continue to collaborate merging West Elm's unparalleled consumer insight and residential inspiration with our deep understanding of the commercial market and its performance needs.

Together we have created an incredible set of ingredients that architects and designers can use to spark their creativity and build beautiful nourishing spaces for their clients.
